Frequently Asked Questions

Do you get together and make blankets?

Yes! Besides our monthly chapter meetings, we also hold Make A Blanket Days throughout the year in various locations across Collin, Dallas, Denton, Grayson and Rockwall counties. Please check the meeting calendar on our web site for a list of upcoming meeting and event dates and locations.

Do I have to come to a Blanket Day or Chapter meeting?

No! Meetings are fun but many blanketeers prefer to work at home or during breaks at work and then leave their finished blankets at one of our drop off locations.

Do I need to finish my blanket by a certain time?

No! There are no deadlines. This is an ongoing effort. You have as much time as you need.

What if I'm not very good at these crafts or have no experience?

We can help you perfect your skills! Our many blanketeers are ready to help. We also have many tasks that don't require the "crafting gene," such as sorting, cutting and tying.

Project Linus

Providing Security Through Blankets

Collin/Dallas/Denton/Grayson/Rockwall Counties, TX Chapter

Project Linus is a national non-profit 100% volunteer organization providing new, handmade, washable blankets to critically ill and/or traumatized children, newborn to 17 years of age.

The Collin / Dallas / Denton / Rockwall / Grayson County TX chapter has distributed more than 8,000 blankets since the chapter began in 2004.

Helping Children ...

Former chapter coordinator Cheryl Vaughan shares this story:

"Just a story that touched my heart and helps me to remember why it is that I do this. One of the CASA supervisors whom I work with told me a story about a child that she was working with. He had been taken by CPS to a psychologist's office for an evaluation. He was so nervous that he was physically trembling and throwing up. On her way out the door, the CASA worker grabbed one of the Project Linus blankets that they keep on hand. When she got to the psychologist's office, she used the blanket to wrap around him. He began to calm down, to quit shaking, and proceeded to fall asleep. When he awoke, he was much more able to deal with the things that he had to deal with that day. One simple piece of fabric did more to reassure that child than any number of professionals could."

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Project Linus blankets can be crocheted, knitted, quilted, sewn or hand-tied or finished edge fleece. We need kid-themed blankets in all sizes.

General size guidelines are: small/infant (36x36), medium/toddler to pre-teen (45x60) and large / teenager (54x63).

Because these blankets go to critically ill children, all blankets must be new, fragrance and smoke-free, with no pet hair or dander. For more details, see our web site, www.PLDallas.org.

Handmade blankets are from the heart!

Besides handmade blankets, we also accept monetary or gift card donations and donations of new fabric (100% cotton / kid friendly), yarn (acrylic or cotton only / no wool due to allergies), sewing notions, crochet hooks / knitting needles, quilting services, patterns / pattern books for quilts (please see our website under FAQ for a complete list)

We need you!
